

The story of Sun Wine began over half a century ago when Zurab Mzekalashvili started growing Rkatsiteli grapes and producing Qvevri wines in the cellar at his home in Kvareli. His passion and love for viticulture and winemaking spread to the entire family and inspired three generations to continue in the family tradition of making unique wines of the highest quality, using some specific methods passed down from Zurab.

The winery and most of its vineyards are in Kvareli. This is a town located in the Alazani Valley, near the foothills of the Caucasus Mountains. The town is famous for its Kindzmarauli appellation.

Ilia Mzekalashvili is the head of the Sun Wine winemaking team. He brings forth 30 years' experience in winemaking and viticulture.

Description: Tsinandali is a wine appellation in the Kakheti region of Georgia on the foothills of the Caucasus mountains. This crisp acidic, dry, white wine is made with Rkatsiteli and Mtsvane (which translates to “young and green,” specific to the grape’s coloring) grapes, matured with no skin contact for at least two years to create a complexity between aroma and taste. It is a pale amber color and offers a fresh, harmonious taste and light body with hints of anise and a nutty finish.

Winemaker’s Notes: Made in the European method, using equipment and adjusting temperature to control the fermentation process.

Food Pairing Suggestion: Best served with seafood and cheeses

Bottle Size: 750 ml
